

The Bulletin's Circulation in Norwich is Double That of Any Other Paper, and Its Total Circulation is the Largest in Connecticut in Proportion to the City's Population

MEXICANS STAY AWAY FROM POLLS

Election Conducted In Section Under Control of Huerta Government—Indifference Everywhere

WASHINGTON WAITS ANXIOUSLY FOR NEWS

President Huerta Said to Have Received a Virtually Unanimous Vote of Confidence—But Belief in Washington That He Has Not Been Candidate—Pedro Lascurain's Name Suggested—Was Minister of Foreign Affairs When Former President and Vice President Were Slain

Mexico City, July 5.—Elections for president, vice president, deputies and senators were held today in that portion of the republic controlled by the Huerta government. In Mexico City there was an almost complete abstention from voting, and indifference was manifested everywhere.

President Huerta, it is reported, has received a virtually unanimous vote of confidence in the elections. The fact that the election of the chamber of deputies and the senate.

The lightest vote in many years was cast, both in the capital and nearby towns.

Washington Wants News.—Washington, July 5.—Washington government officials and others interested in the Mexican situation awaited anxiously tonight for details of the election held today in which it was sought to choose a successor to General Huerta. Up to a late hour nothing had been heard from the election except that one no drive was made that the voting was very light. The fact that few votes were cast caused surprise either in official quarters or among the agents of the Mexican constitutionalists in Washington, because it was generally known that only a few citizens in the vicinity of Mexico City would vote. The question now raised in the minds of observers of condition is whether General Huerta would declare the election valid should some one have been chosen to succeed him.

While an early report from Mexico City said that General Huerta had been the favorite in the voting for the presidency, the general belief here was that Huerta had not been a candidate and that it was the intention to choose Pedro Lascurain as president. Mr. Lascurain was minister of foreign affairs when President Suarez was slain, and the constitutional successor to the president.

Rumored Plan to Restore Peace.—Retirements were received today in private dispatches from Mexico City that Huerta in a final effort to restore peace intended to turn the government over to Lascurain, who, in turn, would name some constitutional successor to the presidency. Huerta would be assigned to some foreign post by Lascurain before the latter's resignation.

That the election was a farce, however, was not believed in some sources here, although some agents of the constitutionalists in Washington, because it was generally known that only a few citizens in the vicinity of Mexico City would vote. The question now raised in the minds of observers of condition is whether General Huerta would declare the election valid should some one have been chosen to succeed him.

While an early report from Mexico City said that General Huerta had been the favorite in the voting for the presidency, the general belief here was that Huerta had not been a candidate and that it was the intention to choose Pedro Lascurain as president.

Mr. Lascurain was minister of foreign affairs when President Suarez was slain, and the constitutional successor to the president.

Rumored Plan to Restore Peace.—Retirements were received today in private dispatches from Mexico City that Huerta in a final effort to restore peace intended to turn the government over to Lascurain, who, in turn, would name some constitutional successor to the presidency.

Huerta would be assigned to some foreign post by Lascurain before the latter's resignation.

That the election was a farce, however, was not believed in some sources here, although some agents of the constitutionalists in Washington, because it was generally known that only a few citizens in the vicinity of Mexico City would vote. The question now raised in the minds of observers of condition is whether General Huerta would declare the election valid should some one have been chosen to succeed him.

While an early report from Mexico City said that General Huerta had been the favorite in the voting for the presidency, the general belief here was that Huerta had not been a candidate and that it was the intention to choose Pedro Lascurain as president.

Mr. Lascurain was minister of foreign affairs when President Suarez was slain, and the constitutional successor to the president.

Cabled Paragraphs

Theatrical People Wed.—Paris, July 5.—Vanni Marcoux, the French bass singer of the Boston and Chicago operas, and his wife, the soprano, were married Saturday at the Church of Saint Sulpice.

After American Dollars for Hungary.—Berlin, July 5.—Count Karolyi, the well known Hungarian aristocrat, will go to America soon. His object is not a wife hunt, but a dollar hunt. He wants American millions to serve the political end of his party, desiring the downfall of Count Tisza, the Hungarian prime minister.

Status for Japanese Count.—Tokyo, July 5.—Some two hundred men of national prominence have subscribed to a movement for the erection of a bronze statue to Count Okuma, the prime minister, which shall be the largest monument of the kind ever erected in the Orient. The cost is estimated at $75,000, to be met by public subscription.

BOMB FACTORY AND INFLAMMATORY LITERATURE.—New York House Where Four Were Killed Was Centered, W. W. Leaders Deny Caron—Had Been Refused Admission, They Say.

New York, July 5.—In the ruins of the Lexington avenue restaurant house wrecked yesterday by the premature combustion of a powerful explosive which killed Arthur Caron and three other people, the authorities today found evidence that Caron's apartment was a center for the distribution of inflammatory literature which was printed there and sent out by the explosion. It was apparently a bomb factory, filled with the ingredients of death-dealing missiles.

A small printing press, revolutionary pamphlets and circulars, an electric dynamo, two electric batteries, cartridges and bits of steel were among the things uncovered in the search, which tend, in the opinion of the police, to show an anarchistic plot at assassination.

Theory of Plot.—That a demonstration, halted by the bungling of someone who was preparing an informal machine for its mission, was planned by the Caron family at Tarrytown, is the theory upon which the authorities are working.

Were to Be Tried Today.—Two men, the wrecked apartment were prominent among those who were to be placed on trial in Tarrytown tomorrow on charges of disorganizing the Caron family.

The body of the fourth victim of the explosion was found today. It was that of Charles Berg, known in L. W. W. circles as "Big Eyes," an associate of Arthur Caron, who was also killed. The other victims were Charles Hanson and Mary Claves. The woman lived in an industrial building.

Identification of Berg's body was made by a woman, who lived in the flat where the fatal explosion occurred.

Caron Not an L. W. W.—Equally interesting was the discovery by the police of anarchistic literature and electrical machinery in the ruins of Caron's apartment.

After hours of searching through Caron's rooms, the authorities were able, from the positions the bodies occupied, to judge of the manner in which the explosion occurred. Caron's body had been hurled through a window to the fire escape.

Under the window, the police are of the opinion that the two men were standing near and watching the explosion. Caron was blown toward the window, Caron going through and Berg striking the wall.

Severed Hand Clutched Wire.—A gruesome but suggestive piece of evidence uncovered was a severed hand which clutched two small pieces of wire. The authorities believe that the owner of this hand was in the act of making an electrical connection for one of the bombs and a battery when the explosion occurred.

Norman N. Niven struck the head was an over a quarter of a mile below where the torso was located. Within an hour Fred Berg was rowing with two women friends, who were rowing a right arm a mile above where the head was picked up.

The girl was a brunette, apparently about 25 years of age, and was believed to have been gray. Owing to the length of time that the parts of the body had been in the water, it was impossible to tell much about her features. The general opinion among the authorities is that she was a foreigner.

Physicians are inclined to the belief now that the person who dismembered the body had a knowledge of surgery. The hands were not identified as those of any one of the Caron family.

Local authorities have searched their records in vain for a description of a missing woman similar to that of the victim.

Gifford Jury Disagreed.—Albany, July 5.—The jury in the case of Malcolm Gifford, Jr., the young Hudson schoolboy charged with the murder of Frank J. Clute, chauffeur, disagreed Saturday after deliberating for twenty-four hours. County Judge Addison discharged the jury at 6 o'clock Saturday night, after a recess of several hours.

It came apparent there was no possibility of their reaching a verdict. Young Gifford was taken back to the penitentiary, where he is likely to remain until tried again.

Editor of Christian Advocate.—St. Louis, July 5.—Rev. W. B. Palmer, of St. Louis, editor and publisher of the Christian Advocate, died at the home of a niece at Richmond, Va., according to telegrams received here tonight.

Took Three Shots at Dr. Carman

MAN ON BICYCLE FOLLOWED PHYSICIAN IN AUTO

BULLETS WENT WILD IN 7 FEET OF WATER

Doctor in Whose Office Mrs. Bailey Was Killed Is Made the Object of Attack in Village of Baldwin.

Freeport, N. Y., July 5.—Dr. Edwin Carman, in whose office Mrs. Louise Bailey was murdered last Tuesday evening, was shot at three times tonight as he drove in his automobile through the town of Baldwin, near here. None of the bullets struck him.

The doctor was on his way home from Rockville Center, where he had been to attend a patient.

Dr. Carman, who lives in the police station, was the object of the attack upon him. He had been making professional calls all afternoon and passed through Rockville Center on his way home.

There he met Garland Gaden, an actor, whom he invited to ride home with him.

Gaden, accepted my invitation," continued Dr. Carman, "and got into the car. We stopped in a store and as we again got into the car, a small crowd gathered and got out the other side of the car. We drove off without paying any particular attention to the man."

Thought Tire Had Exploded.—"When about a mile and a half out of the town I heard a report and thought one of the tires had exploded. My friend got out of one side of the machine and got out the other. As soon as I put my foot on the ground I heard another shot and when I looked around I saw the same man standing beside his bicycle with a shiny revolver in his hand. Gaden told me, 'My God, Carman, he's trying to kill you.'"

Bullet Past His Head.—"We both jumped into the car and there was another report and a bullet went singing by my head. Gaden told me, 'My God, Carman, he's trying to kill you.'"

Dr. Carman, upon his arrival in Freeport, hurried to police headquarters and told his story. Sheriff Pettit quickly dashed to the scene of the shooting in a high powered automobile, closely followed by a posse.

At midnight an automobile full of detectives and policemen went to the scene and searched for the man who had fired the shots.

Bicycle Looks Like Clue.—The authorities placed special significance upon the fact that the assassin was said to have been riding on a bicycle. During the night following the murder of Mrs. Bailey, when bloodhounds were brought into play, they circled the Carman house once and then started off down the same road on which Dr. Carman was returning home tonight.

Who had charged the house at that time said that they had much difficulty in following the scent, and exposed the belief that the person whom they were following was riding a bicycle.

Looking for Bullets.—Detectives before leaving the scene declared that they would examine carefully the territory in the vicinity of the shooting to see if they could find one of the bullets so that they could compare it with the one that had been extracted from the body of Mrs. Bailey.

A high police official suggested the possibility that Dr. Carman might have been standing near and watching the explosion. Caron was blown toward the window, Caron going through and Berg striking the wall.

Severed Hand Clutched Wire.—A gruesome but suggestive piece of evidence uncovered was a severed hand which clutched two small pieces of wire. The authorities believe that the owner of this hand was in the act of making an electrical connection for one of the bombs and a battery when the explosion occurred.

Norman N. Niven struck the head was an over a quarter of a mile below where the torso was located. Within an hour Fred Berg was rowing with two women friends, who were rowing a right arm a mile above where the head was picked up.

The girl was a brunette, apparently about 25 years of age, and was believed to have been gray. Owing to the length of time that the parts of the body had been in the water, it was impossible to tell much about her features. The general opinion among the authorities is that she was a foreigner.

Physicians are inclined to the belief now that the person who dismembered the body had a knowledge of surgery. The hands were not identified as those of any one of the Caron family.

Local authorities have searched their records in vain for a description of a missing woman similar to that of the victim.

Gifford Jury Disagreed.—Albany, July 5.—The jury in the case of Malcolm Gifford, Jr., the young Hudson schoolboy charged with the murder of Frank J. Clute, chauffeur, disagreed Saturday after deliberating for twenty-four hours. County Judge Addison discharged the jury at 6 o'clock Saturday night, after a recess of several hours.

It came apparent there was no possibility of their reaching a verdict. Young Gifford was taken back to the penitentiary, where he is likely to remain until tried again.

Editor of Christian Advocate.—St. Louis, July 5.—Rev. W. B. Palmer, of St. Louis, editor and publisher of the Christian Advocate, died at the home of a niece at Richmond, Va., according to telegrams received here tonight.

What did your wife say to you for remaining downtown so late last night? "Well, if you have an hour to spare, I can give you a synopsis of it."

Bent on Suicide Upset The Boat

THREE DROWNED OUT OF FISHING PARTY OF FOUR

POQUONOCK, CONN., JULY 5.—Three of a fishing party of four men were drowned in the Farmington river here today, when their boat was capsized by one of the party, intent, according to the survivor, on suicide.

The drowned men were: Michael Mitro, 35; John Watsky, 32, and William Zatazaski, 27.

The survivor is John Sickanus, and it was from him that the police learned the details of the triple drowning. All of the dead, with the exception of Zatazaski, were unmarried.

According to the story told by the survivor, the four men started out in their boat soon after midnight. All had been drinking. After they had been drinking, they started out in their boat soon after midnight.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

They were all drunk, and the boat was capsized. The survivors were rescued by a fishing party of four men.

Condensed Telegrams

Ten thousand persons perished in the West River floods in China.

Manchuria and 11 of the 17 provinces forming China proper are declared to be free of opium.

Five men were instantly killed and six others killed and badly injured in a sewer cave-in in Bayonne.

A monument to the fifty men who were killed in the Civil War from Roseland, N. J., was dedicated on the Fourth.

Only two fire cracker accidents were reported in Boston on July 4th, and those were of a trivial nature.

French investors lost $550,000,000 francs ($112,000,000) during the last six months on depreciations.

The American squadron with the "middles" from Annapolis on a cruise, sailed from Naples for Gibraltar.

The increasing number of Italians in Panama has brought about the appointment of a consular and diplomatic agent.

Thomas McMullen, about 55 years old, was drowned while trying to swim twice across Lake Housatonic at Derby.

The lower house of the Mexican Congress passed a bill, authorizing Huerta to float a $60,000,000 peso internal loan.

A Turkish destroyer is reported to have been captured by a Greek sailing ship that was carrying refugees to Chios.

Arthur Rybicki of San Francisco, an aviator, was killed when his airplane was caught in an aerial eddy above the canyon.

A French army aviation corps officer was killed and another fatally wounded by a fall of 800 feet in a mountain at Rheims.

American residents of London entertained the 150 old Civil War Veterans who drew their pensions through the American consulate general.

Minister Naon, of Argentina, one of the mediators, returned to Washington from Niagara and will confer with the constitutionalist leaders.

At the fifteenth annual convention of the Sigma Lambda Nu fraternity at New Haven, Dr. P. R. Henry of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected president.

Sir Arthur and Lady Conan Doyle sailed from Montreal for Liverpool on the White Star liner Magonia, after touring the United States and Canada.

Martin Douglass of Greensboro, a grandson of Stephen A. Douglas, was nominated for congress from the Fifth North Carolina district by the progressives.

In Connecticut district, which includes Rhode Island, the corporation excise and income taxes aggregated $1,029,535.19 and the individual income tax $733,459.71.

A fire which is believed to have been set by boy celebrators burned several buildings on the estate of John B. Stetson at Stetsonham, Mass., causing a loss of $12,000.

Princess William of Wied left Durazzo with her children and her husband is believed to have returned to the abdication by Prince William of the throne of Albania.

Refugees report that famine threatens both the soldiers and civilians in the Balkans. The Federal garrison is prepared to evacuate whenever the Constitutionalists attack.

The first bale of 1914 cotton marketed in the United States, weighing 392 pounds sold on the cotton exchange at Houston, Texas, for $900 or $127 1-2 per pound.

Mrs. L. Conway, who, with her husband, was convicted of the murder of Miss Mary Conway, a Baltimore girl, was pardoned by Governor Dunne, of Illinois.

Many titled friends of the late Archduke Ferdinand and the Duchess who were not invited to the funeral service in the Hotel de Ville protested against their exclusion.

Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader, in a speech in South London, said: "If ever we go into the Irish parliament, we shall go in, not at the bayonet, but of our own free will."

Evidence of extortion by business agents of the Chicago city hall was shown by money from manufacturers outside of Chicago, and from Chicago contractors will be presented to a special federal grand jury.

Small Respect to Royal Dead

POEHLARN FIREMEN DRANK BEER AND ATE SAUSAGES

COFFINS IN DEPOT

Thunder Storm Upset Pre-Arranged Ceremony—Like the Turmoil of a Country Fair—Insult to Duesess.

Vienna, July 5.—Now that the bodies of the murdered Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, repose beneath the castle chapel at Arstetten, an unusual controversy rages in the manner in which the funeral was conducted. The newspapers are devoting columns to the discussion of it.

Inferior Birth of Duesess Emphasized.—A Vienna opinion inclines to the belief that the court officials made the ceremonial too painfully correct, while the friends of the duchess are indignant at the emphasis laid on her inferior birth.

According to reports published in the leading Vienna papers, the reception of the bodies at Arstetten, near Danubius, was attended by most scandalous proceedings. A violent thunder storm upset the pre-arranged ceremony, and the coffins were hurriedly carried to the waiting room of the depot, where they were placed on the stone-paved floor, and remained there for two hours or more.

Strolled About Smoking Cigars.—Meanwhile the volunteer firemen, who were supposed to be assisting the local government in controlling the arrangements, were drinking beer and eating sausages, while the more important persons strolled about smoking cigars in close proximity to the coffin containing the body of the late heir to the throne.

The torrential rain drove everybody into the waiting room and, says one account, "all the ordinary rules of behavior seemed to have been forgotten, and the scene was described as resembling the turmoil and noise of a country fair."

Kept Clergy Waiting.—The coffins were brought to Poehllarn in two freight cars coupled together. The interior was carpeted with black cloth. The personal suite of the archduke and the duchess, exhausted by the fatigue of the journey, after days, refused to leave the sleeping cars, and the clergy in attendance to bless the body were kept waiting their appearance.

Emperor Intervened.—The highest court functionaries are severely attacked for their part in the conduct of the funeral, and it is said that but for the intervention of the emperor the body of the duchess would never have been permitted to be brought to the Hofburg chapel, but would have been carried to the station from the Vienna station to Arstetten.

WATCHFUL SHEPHERD DOG.—GAVE FIRE ALARM.—Meriden Family Escaped From Burning Building Just in Time.

Meriden, Conn., July 5.—Eight members of the family of the late Archduke Ferdinand and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, who were not invited to the funeral service in the Hotel de Ville, protested against their exclusion.

Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader, in a speech in South London, said: "If ever we go into the Irish parliament, we shall go in, not at the bayonet, but of our own free will."

Evidence of extortion by business agents of the Chicago city hall was shown by money from manufacturers outside of Chicago, and from Chicago contractors will be presented to a special federal grand jury.

The Meriden police are engaged in an active search for the person who was killed in the Hotel de Ville, and who was killed in the Hotel de Ville, and who was killed in the Hotel de Ville.

The sale of cocaine, heroin, morphine and opium to prisoners in Sing Sing has netted what is known as the "Drug Syndicate" of $100,000 in more than $25,000, according to James M. Glavin, who resigned recently as warden.

President Meneal has pardoned Enrique Maza, the Cuban journalist who in August 1912, was sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment for assaulting Hugh S. Gibson, then charge d'affaires of the American legation at Havana.

Governor Major of Missouri pardoned John David Shea, serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for murdering Policeman Patrick Doran of St. Louis, in 1911. Among those who recommended the pardon was Speaker Champ Clark.

Lawrence M. D. McGuire, of New York, was appointed a member of the State Factory Investigating Committee by Governor Glynn, to succeed Robert E. Dowling, who retired to become a member of the Workmen's Compensation Commission.

Ten thousand persons fighting for a glimpse of Eleanor Roosevelt, who returned to her home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.

August Muller, insurance agent, 55, was discharged last Tuesday, returned to his home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.

August Muller, insurance agent, 55, was discharged last Tuesday, returned to his home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.

August Muller, insurance agent, 55, was discharged last Tuesday, returned to his home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.

August Muller, insurance agent, 55, was discharged last Tuesday, returned to his home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.

August Muller, insurance agent, 55, was discharged last Tuesday, returned to his home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.

August Muller, insurance agent, 55, was discharged last Tuesday, returned to his home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.

August Muller, insurance agent, 55, was discharged last Tuesday, returned to his home in East River, N. J., asserting that she had reached Manhattan on Tuesday, her mind became blank. When he recovered he had one cent in his pocket.